This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

AN

TO

Dr Wild's

LETTER,

&c.

Doctor,

With as many faces, and as much pain as ever tooth was drawn, I made shift a while ago to wade through a most vile and dirty pamphlet of yours with this Title: A Letter from Dr. Robert Wild upon occasion of his Majesties Declaration for Liberty of Conscience, together with his Poetica Licentia,

10-16-3-mfm

&c. Which pamphlet I found all the way pretending to most extraordinary joy and thanks; but of such a witless and slovenly kind, that could his Majesty have possibly imagined that his Clemency could have been so saucily abused, and his kindness so nastily and Sirreverentially received, most certainly Robert had been as particularly excepted from the benefit of the Declaration as Hugh and some others were, from the Act of Oblivion. And my business, Dr. at present is only to acquaint you, that though Poetica Licentia jingles very prettily with Liberty of Conscience, yet that Poetica is never Latin for Conscience, nor Licentia for any such ill manners as you at large shew, both in your Letter and Poem. And that I may in your own stile convey my meaning the easier into your belly, I am to tell you, that when you went about to confound the one with the other, you were as absolutely mistaken, as he that took a glister pipe for a flageolet, or the intestinum rectum for the great artery.

And in the first place I observe, that before before you ſignifie your receiving the news of the Declaration, you would fain delude the friend you write to, into a fit of laughter; by the mere dull jeſt of telling him that you are a merry fellow. For when you go about to tickle him up to a belief of it, with ſuch deadly old and ſmall provocations as of hanging your harp upon the Willows and ſinging lachrymæ, in ſtead of the ſongs of Sion; of laughing at a feather, eſpecially, O eſpecially if it be upon a fools cap; of being as merry as the old ſect of Crickets, though after a baking, yea verily though after a baking; or as the chimney men themſelves, who are a new ſect of Crickets, at ſome certain times of the year; nay, though for the better diſguiſe you ſplit an ancient abuſe, and call the Biſhop of Briſtol, Cock in one line, and comb in another; yet I durſt boldly ſay that if your friend has but the leaſt ſhare of wit, or any ſenſe of conſcience, he can no more laugh at ſuch overworn and tatter'd ſtuff, than if he ſhould find his houſe all in flames, and his Wife and Children hung up in ſeniority.

And as thou setteſt forth with ſuch a niggardlineſs of wit, that it is great impudence in thee to preſume, that the moſt eaſy of thy Non-conforming friends ſhould ſmile at it: ſo thou as ſaucily proceedeſt, comparing the grave and ſolemn Muſick of our Church, to a whiſtle, bagpipe and jewſ-trump. Which, if thou hadſt done with wit anſwerable to its inſolence, much time and long repentance might perhaps have brought thee off: but to ſay that the whiſtling of a bodies-maker is every whit as good and elevating as a Salisbury Anthem, and that a bag-pipe does far excel the Organ at Hackney, and to give no better reaſon but only that thy ſowſes are not made of ſilk, is ſo very rude and unpardonable, that ſeeing thou wert not excepted, thou doſt now deſerve to be excommunicated out of the Toleration it ſelf. For let us a little conſider, Doctor; is there not an Organ in the Kings Chappel, as well as at Hackney? and are not Anthems ſung there, as well as at Salisbury? and has not his Majeſty told thee in his Declaration, that

'tis his expreſs reſolution and intention that the Church of England be preſerv'd in its Doctrine, Diſcipline and Government: and whoever preaches ſeditionſly or to the derogation thereof, muſt expect ſeverely to be puniſhed? Suppoſe ſuch a thing as this ſhould be objected to thee: I am confident thou haſt nothing in the world to ſay, but only what thou would'ſt have impoſ'd upon thy friend in the beginning, viz. That Robin is a merry fellow, an abſolute Cricket, a meer wagg, a droll and a moſt accurate ſplitter of a prelatical Coxcomb. But, thou that pretendeſt to daunce on the high rope, to ſoar aloft, and clip Clouds, thou muſt not cheat thy ſelf and think that ſuch crawling humours as theſe will excuſe thy rudeneſs. For although his Majeſty of tenderneſs and compaſſion to ſuch weakly ſubjects as thy ſelf, has graciouſly condeſcended, that anſwerably to your ſtile and matter, you ſhould be indulged either the liberty of a pair of tongs, to play you to perch upon a Plum-tree, and from thece to diſtribute; or to be ſqueak'd up the Hay-loft with a comb and paper, and there to float and ſpread it over a beame; yet I ſuppoſe he never did deſign to give over the Muſicians of his Chappel, either to Dutch or Devil, in compliance with thy elegant advice from the two D's, nor to ſend for thy blind Piper, jews-trumper or neighbouring hodies-maker, to whiſtle up his Biſhops and Chaplains; when they preach before him; upon my word, Dr. Robert Wild, if one of you three will but read over the Declaration, you will find you are all moſt vilely miſtaken.

The ſmall feather'd and cricket-like preface being thus finiſhed, and the Doctor having made therewith no creature in the world merry, beſides himſelf: it is high time for him now to leave the frying pan, and the four herrings, and to attend the Poſt-boy, who blew his Horn and Tarrantara. But why in ſuch haſt, good Doctor? what, liſten to a Horn before the orthodox exerciſe of eating and drinking? eſpecially at an houn when the maw ſtretches and yawns, and makes humble requeſt for victuals?

cruals? how, ſo cruel as to forſake four penſive diſconſolate herrings; when your own conſcience flew on your face, and told you that they had lately been in very great diſtreſs, and in as bad a pickle as the Dutch Fleet the week before? How ſo careleſs of your family, as to give over your wife and maid to the cruelty of four hiſſing ſputtering outragious Herrings? Suppoſe one of the ſtouteſt and diſcontented of them had made a violent digreſſion out of the frying pan, and ſtruck up your maids heels, and in your abſence had ſwallowed your wife, head, ſhoulders and all. (As the great Pike at Boſton, that on a ſudden ran away from the Pound and his Keepers, and in a trice devoured a whole flock of Sheep.) Suppoſe, I ſay, and ſuch calamity had happen'd in the family by your neglect? would it not have prick'd you ſorely to have left the houſe in ſuch tumult and diſorder? Ah, you, you are the men that have got the Conſcience of the whole Nation: that pretend to ſuch curioſity and neatneſs of Conſcience, and yet make nothing to leave a poor helpless wife and but one maid to the fury and insolence of four dissatisfied and devouring Herrings: and only upon that quibling pretence, forsooth, that you had other fish to fry. Come come, Doctor, deceive not your self with such loose principles. You may pretend to as much tenderness of Conscience as you will; but I am afraid that if you had had four Cormorants, or four Eagles for dinner, the case would have been the same; for you would either have had other Birds to look after, or other Fish to fry, or some such Conscience-palliating excuse.

But I shall leave you to consider of this unanswerable neglect at your Leisure: and we'll go on, if you please, to the very Declaration it self. But before we read it; that our joy may be gradual and solemn; and that not the least expression of thanks and mirth may be wanting to so great an occasion, let us droll, flash, and be a little phansiful upon the very paper it self: which being clipt for the better lying in the Letter, affords four absolute new merry conceits.

First

First, the Declaration thus ſhorn is like a Round-head: the reaſon of that is plain becauſe of Aquarius. Secondly, 'tis like an Amſterdam Divine: that alſo is as plain becauſe of Sagittarius. Thirdly, 'tis like an officiating Friar; upon the accompt of the Bulls right Eye. Fourthly, 'tis unlike clipping of money; upon ſome other accompt.

Having thus bedabbled the outſide of the Declaration with four ſuch dewy delicate phanſies: now, Dr, we'll ſet on, and fall to reading. But not rudely and unſanctifyedly, but with that ſhort ejaculation of S. Paul, S. George for England. Or as one of the Latins renders it, Cynthius aurem vellit, Epheſians the 5th and the 4th And the Grace being ended, we venture now upon the Title of the Book. His Majeſties Declaration to all his Loving Subjects, March 15. 167½. "What, to all his Loving Sub-"jects? this is joy indeed! However I am "ſure his Majeſty means me in a moſt ſpeci-"al manner: for I have a ſoul as white and "ſpotleſs towards the King, as any Lawn in "England; and I do and will love the King

"with any Church-man of them all, for a "thousand pounds. A Prelatical man love "the King! that's a frolick indeed: Where's "any one of them that in obedience to the "Act of Uniformity, presently laid down a "plump Parsonage, as I did, and suffered e-"ver since for his Majesty. And (if I may be "so bold) how came his Majesty, I pray, in-"to England? who was it that invited him "hither, and settl'd him in his Throne? did "not George and I do all that business? He "and his forces undertaking for the prose "part of his restauration: and I, with my "Muses, undertaking for the Poetick? I tell thee, Doctor, thou swaggerest much, what a loyal, white, spotless, lawn-soul thou hast towards his Majesty: but he that shall torture himself so much as to look over thy late letter and poem, will presently perceive so much of coursenes, greasines and nastines, that he'l think thy soul much more like that same Prebyterian horse-cloth, thou speakest of, than any Lawn or Tiffany.

The Title being thus dispatch'd, and the clemency of his Majesty being justly compared red to that of Cyrus to the Jews, or Conſtantine to the oppreſſed Chriſtians, or as the welcome Dove to the water-beaten Ark: (as if the Doctor and two or three of his Crickets were the only people of God, and had beſpoaken all Chriſtianity, and taken up every inch of the Ark:) we go next to the date of the Declaration; which happening to be upon the fifteenth of March, ought to be moſt ſolemnly commemorated; partly by way of panegyrick, and partly by way of wonderment. In panegyrick thus: "O "thou fifteenth of March! be thou and the "four ſalt herrings for ever Chronicled and "extolled. It is a thouſand pitties that thou "art already engaged to be the fifteenth of "March; for if thou hadſt thy right and "due, thou doſt as certainly deſerve to be "the firſt day of January, as a quart of milk "is worth a penny. It is my requeſt and "wiſh that thou be acquainted with the "twenty ninth of May: and ſeeing thou art "decreed to be the fifteenth of March, be "thou however kind to the fifth of Novem-"ber: for five and ten make fifteen. But "as for the twenty fourth of August and the "thirtieth of January, hold no correſpon-

"dence with them; for upon the one I loſt
"my living; and upon the other the King
"his head: which by all the people of God, good Chriſtians and Ark-holders ought to be utterly forgotten. Now for Wonderment.
"How! what, the fifteenth of March bring "forth ſuch news as this? can mercy, truth
"and peace, long preaching and praying be
"reſtored again in March? can ſuch hea"venly and elevating muſick as bagpipes and
"whiſtles and jews-trumps be brought home
"to an unſettled Nation in the month of "March? can ſuch a big-bellied, Dutch-bel"lied, blundering, blunderbuſs month as
"March, that feeds wholly upon white peaſe
"porrage and dumplings, afford any ſuch bleſ"ſing to the Iſrael of God? Grey peaſe in"deed have ſomewhat of fatherlineſs, cle"mency and compaſſion for a diſtreſſed
"Church and a perſecuted people: but white
"peaſe, back'd with perverſe, obſtinate, and "hard hearted dumplings —— ſurely it can"not be! nor ever would have been, had it not (as the Doctor well obſerves) ſo handſomely jumped with the Jewiſh feaſt of Purim on their fourteenth and fifteenth of March.

The date of the Declaration being thus ſufficiently wondered at: in the next place we proceed to the great benefits and advantages of this Liberty of Conſcience: which are of ſuch a kind, that neither King nor Council could poſſibly ever gheſs at, or hope for. For whereas his Majeſty expects nothing elſe, but that ſilly ſtubborn people may hereby perceive their folly and error, and in time be reduced to a ſober mind, and the Church of England: the Doctor holds forth, and declares that this ſame Toleration (if rightly underſtood) notwithſtanding it came out in the bluſtering Month of March, will have ſuch a vaſt influence and power over Holland, that all the fiſh now at Amſterdam (excepting the ſmall fry) will forthwith skip out of the water, and run all away to London: and that now, upon Liberty of Conſcience, it will be as common a thing to meet with Carp, Pike, Tench, and Eel walking about the streets, as in the days of Uniformity to meet with a Dog or a Porter. But because this looks like too great an alteration on a sudden; therefore it is to be noted that by Carp we mean soft and smooth-mouth'd Presbyterians: by Pike, bouncing and devouring Prelatists and Pluralists: and by Tench and Eel, muddy and slimy Opinionists; and well we may: both because of the feast of Purim, and that the Evening and the Morning were the fifth day.

And now we are talking of Bonds and Rivers, of Prelates, Presbyterians, Opinionists and Fish: and there being a certain River here in England call'd Trent, affording only a small quibble, (as small as the remaining fry at Amsterdam) it may be not amiss to observe, that of all waters the Papists delight most in Trent. For take a Papist and tye him head and heels together, and fling him with a good lusty stone about his neck into the Thames or any other River, besides Trent; and he presently sinks to the bottom, lies sullenly there, and will not feed nor fatten himself at all. But throw him softly upon the back, and put him gently into the River Trent, and he's as brisk and frolick as a mouſe in June, and in a very ſhort time proves as fat as a Lamprey with nine eyes. For, as the Doctor well obſerves, a Papiſt is nothing elſe but a Lamprey with nine eyes. For as Rome ſtanding upon ſeven hills was called Septicollis: ſo the Papiſts have juſt nine eyes, neither more nor leſs, and may be thence called Lampreys.

Thus far, Dr, you are very aery, ſmooth and delightful; but, in my opinion, towards the latter end of this Section, you are a little too deep and ſomewhat reſerv'd. Where you leave frying of Fiſh, and fall to telling the Pope, what a great loſs he had (upon the Reformation) of the Engliſh Shambles, of the Engliſh Muttons and Engliſh Veals: and of the luſty chines of noble Fornicators, which he us'd to torture, as ſeverely, as when they fell into the cruel clutches of King Lues or Morbus Gallicus. Now, Dr, that which I am horribly puzl'd at, is this ſame King Lues. For ſearching very carefully my French Hiſtory, I can hear no more news of any

any King Lues, than of King Scorbutus, or King Catarrhus. If you had committed these same Fornicationers into the clutches of King Pharamond, King Dagobert, or King Pippin; I had almost understood you: for, I know, that any of those would have claw'd the rogues away: especially King Pippin, for a certain reason that I know: which I shall not now stand to tell you, but instead thereof tell you a short story out of one of your own Classical Authors.

There was a man in the West, who being to be tryed for his life, was asked by the Recorder his name; who answered Spillman. Say you so, quoth the Recorder, Spillman? 'twill go hard with you, upon my word, friend: for take away S. P. and what's your name then, Sirrah? E'en what your Worship please, quoth Spillman. Come, come, Sirrah, you are an old cunning Rogue: you have been of the trade, ever since you were born, and you know it well enough: for take away S. P.: and 'tis Illman: and then Sirrah, Sirrah, put but K to it, and 'tis Killman. Take him away Jaylour, we need no witneſſes in the caſe: he's a born Rogue, for his name has hang'd him.

'Tis good thus far; but what follows is much better and as Claſſical. A while after there came one to be tryed before the Maior, who having learn'd of the Recorder, how to hang in his abſence, asked the fellow his name; who anſwered Wilſon. How now, Sirrah! Wilſon? take away S. P. and then 'tis Illman, and put K to't and then 'tis Killman, away with him Jaylour.

And let thus much ſerve for King Lues. Now we go to the Miniſter of the Doctor's Pariſh: upon whom he has two admirable remarks. Firſt, his Pariſhioners don't grunt at him. And why? becauſe he takes no Tythe-pigs. Secondly, his Church is conſtantly very full of Ears, becauſe his barn has none. Admirably good indeed! have a care Dr. of going into the Weſt, for if the Maior meet you, he'll take away S. P. for your wit ſake. This is Robin the Cricket! this is the fruits of Milk Pottage, crumm'd thick, and eat hot! oh how it fluſhes the cheeks, and makes the phanſie to glow again! Surely the young Scholar that put that handſom abuſe upon Mr. Eaton, had got a flush from ſome ſuch inſpiring Soupe: for he being at Mr. Eaton's houſe, where there was a Gooſe for dinner, Mr. Eaton asked him if he would not eat ſome gooſe. The young Scholar being a little flush'd, laid upon catch, till all was eaten and took away; then ſays he, I thank you for my good chear, good Mr. Eaton, for I perceive the gooſe is Eaten. This, Dr, as I well remember, happen'd in the reign of your King Lues, or immediately after.

And now Dr, I have very little more to ſay to your Letter; only I cannot but a little delight my ſelf to ſee what great pains you take to excuſe your ſelf to your grave friend for being ſo merry and witty. Whereas I'll undertake to fetch an ordinary Waterman, and the Rogue ſhall not be aſſiſted at all with any extraordinary flush, who (letting aſide your Ladrymæ, adufum Sanctum, and two or three ſuch Latin ſmallneſſes) ſhall void as many paſſing and luſty jeſts between Temple-ſtairs and Weſtminſter as are to be found in your whole Letter: and I'll not

not ſo much as except the Herrings tail hanging out of your wifes mouth. Neither, Dr, muſt you hope to be pardon'd for over-charging ſuch a very ſmall meaſure of wit, with ſuch a vaſt proportion of rudeneſs and arrogance; by ſaying that you were infected by reading a late Dialogue againſt Mr. Hobbs. For what if a young conceited coxcomb ſhall be ſo pert and confident as to try to invent any thing againſt Mr. Hobbs after ſo many grave and learned confutations of him: or be ſo idle and pragmatical as to crack a few lice upon his head, make a few trivial jeſts about his ſtaff, & moſt philoſophically confute his Boots: can't you ſee ſuch a Jackanapes on horſe-back, but preſently you muſt call for a pillion and get up behind him; or rather take a freſh Hobby-horſe (that now is a kind of a King Lear or a Rabinism) and ride his Jackanapeſhip quite out of ſight? Truly, Dr, although all the world (as you ſay) is ſo very big with jeſt, yet this won't at all ſerve your turn, neither muſt you ever expect to ſee your intolerable dullneſs excuſed by ſaying that one Nine-ſorviſts don't go to plays, and therefore we can't match their cocks. For there is a very worthy person that frequents Plays no more than thy self; whose Friendly Debates thou takest thy common rudeness to compare to the sputtering of Fish, or the scolding at Billingsgate: whereas 'tis known to all the world, that the same learned Author has given more proof of sence and wit in any six lines of his writings, than thy punning abilities will ever give thee leave so much as to understand thy whole life.

And so farwell, Doctor, as to thy prose. Now for Poetica Licentia! now for liberty of Conscience in Rhime! now stand by gout and sence, wit and good manners, and let the Doctor and his Muse Mopsa have a brush at pro and con. Now stretch forth thy self my dear one, and be thou transported above all the pedantick Laws of Poetry and Modesty. Don't sneak now, and like a Subserviss, utter things that are mean and despicable; but speak fire and lightning, fury and raptures, and let the first mount be within a spit and a ſtride of the Moon. Thou knoweſt, my Girl, that thou haſt been clip'd and ſhortned; thou haſt been in bonds and fetters, ſince that accurſ'd twenty fourth of Auguſt. But the fifteenth of March is now come, my pretty witty ſlut: Liberty of Conſcience is now come: Poetica Licentia is come: and the joy is great, the King is great, and the Bible (by Grandſire Hierarchy's leave) is now again great. And therefore pluck out the half herring out of thy mouth forthwith, and call together all the flowers and phanſies, puns, and quibbles, and clinches in to thy aſſiſtance.

M. Truly, Dr, this cup of his Majeſties favour is ſo ſtrong and heady that I can't at preſent find my feet; and to go about to make Verſes without feet is next unto going to Foot-ball with ones Shoulders.

Dr. Away, away, with ſuch Uniformity-excuſes: for ſeeing there's Liberty of Conſcience, if thou haſt no Feet, then fly, my Girl, I ſay fly into ſome loftineſs and mightineſs of Gratulation.

M. We would make Boneſires, Sir, but that we fear
Name of Incendiaries we may hear.

Dr. That's moſt admirably ſaid my dainty Mouze, let King Lues with all his Corneilles, Scuderys, and the reſt of his morbify'd wits produce ſuch a diſtich: 'tis ſhort, clean and ſmart. Bonefires and Incendiaries; Powder and Peace; Treaſon and Glory. Amen. And now, my fine Wench, for one ſtrain more: let it be ſeaſonable and brisk and gripe the Church men for their tooting Organs and ting-tang Preaching.

M. We would have Muſick too, but 'twill not do,
For all the Fidlers are Conformiſts too.

I pray, Dr, now let me ſay a word or two to your Muſe: and you ſhall come in again by and by. Have the Conformiſts taken up all the Muſick and Fidles, my Dear? I am ſorry that thou ſhouldſt be ſo diſappointed: for if thou hadſt ſent to me, I could have furniſh'd thee with great variety: either with grave ſlow-pac'd Nonconforming Pavins, concerning flowing-guſhing-full with ſelf-emptineſs: or with Sarabrand of glittering and and glaring glaries: or with querpo-friſcado, jigs of jeſts and jingles. And indeed, Muſe, thou oughteſt so take it very ill, that the Doctor himſelf was ſo unkind as not to offer thee out of his own rich treaſure. For he could have ſhown thee a certain Letter, which he writ upon the great fright and confuſion that his Books were in, upon the receiving of Dr. Reynold's Works into his ſtudy: where in my opinion he does far out-fiddle the very famous Sweed himſelf. For Juſtin Martyr, he feared he ſhould again be a Martyr; Tertullian began to make Apologies; S. Auſtin Retractations; and poor devout Bede got into a corner and fell to his Beeds. Jee Bald! Then for the School-men, they all look'd like School-boys: the Fathers having before looked all like Children. And Aquinas himſelf wiſh'd with all his heart he had not had ſuch Sums to reckon for; and Dr. Preſton's All-ſufficiency pleaded Inſufficiency. And which I had like to have forgotten, Cambden's Britannia ran quite away into the farther parts of Germany, and was never heard of to this very day. And I don't at all queſtion, but that let the Doctor have have but his common flush; and his hand is every whit as good at a Sermon, as 'tis at a Letter. And now, I prethee go on, Muse; for I perceive by thy lip that thou hast one strain of Gratulation still left.

M. Nor can we Ring, the angry Churchman swears,
By the Kings leave the Bells and Ropes are theirs.
And let them take them. Yet our Tongues shall sing
Your Honour louder than their Clappers Ring.

Now, Dr, I desire to speak one word or so to your self: beseeching you out of all love, that you would take off, and tye up your Muse; for most certainly, if she goes on thus, I shall either bepiss my self or go to the Groom of the Robe: for she flags so horribly and grows so deadly dull and jadish, that she is e'en forc'd to steal from our own self. For with Bells and Changes, with Ringing and Clappers, with Steeples and

Ropes

Roper you brought in his Majesty in your Iter Boreale. And now with the very same instruments you congratulate the Toleration. And besides all this, about 40 years agon, (as you may find it in a most faithful Historian) there was one John Hall who, being both a Cap-maker and a Sexton, died and lived again with just the very same sort of phansie. He died thus.

Here lies John Hall the University-cap-maker
Who lived by the Bell and died by the Clapper.

And being cruelly mad, that he should be so bespatter'd after his death, he starts up again, after this manner.

John Hall lives still
And lives in hope
That he shall live by the Bell,
And you shall die by the Rope.

But if, after all this, your Muse has any thing new, I pray speak to her, and let's have it.

Dr. What dost think, Muse, of his Majesties Declaration being a Trojane Mare with foal of Popery? Thou knowest 'tis but a little way from Rome to Troy; and if the Pope should break pasture. Besides, t'other day, I over-heard the Gnidians most horribly grumbling at the Frying-pan.

Muse. Fat the Pope's Supremacy, what?
'Tis but the Bunch upon the Camels back.
The Lions rich can't hide the Asses
Luggs;
We stamp Popes Faces on our beardless
Groats,
And make no more conscience of Coining Gold mine,
Than taking off the lusty Ale or Wine.

Dr. This Muse of mine is both the most waggish, and most argumentative Slut, that I ever met withall in my whole life. Six such keen and compacted lines as these, shall most effectually keep out the Pope; when he shall make nothing to leap over a thousand dull pages of your learned Chillingworths, grave Stillingfleets, and Tillotsons. For most plain it is, and most demonstrative, that so long as the Pope continues to be a Camel, he can never with his Supremacy-bunch get into the low and narrow gate of Reformation. In like manner so long as we keep to our Bibles, and neglect not to paint Popes faces, plentifully and largely upon our bearded juggs; the Pope will be hang'd a thousand times over, before ever he'll come hither, to see himself so apparently vilified and affronted. Nay, if he were just now about landing, and any body were but there in readiness to hoise up against him, one of the best sort of these bearded juggs; he would presently turn tail, and run roaring home to Rome, as if you had a design to get away his Maidenhead. And in the last place, so long as we be careful to keep Ale or Wine in the Kingdom; and have spirit and valour enough to send for a vast pitcher, and say thereunto, oh thou Dragon, Bell or Bellarmine, be thou for ever confounded and as utterly run down, as this drink runs down my throat; so long I say as this care be taken, it will be impossible for any of the Defenders of the Church of Rome, ever to spread their Doctrine in this nation.

And therefore as to this, my Muse, thou art certainly in the right. But what dost think of their Images and Musick; of their Pixes and Fixes, and such fine tempting things.

We all know Popes-head Alley trades in Toyes, Our Merchants come not thither, but dare buy.

Dr. Most Divine and Politick! O Lachryma! O Miserie! O the dullness and stupidity of Prelates and Churchmen, that should go about to suspect the increase of Popery, and not study to understand the concern and intrigue of Popes-head Alley! Ye Brethren and Sisters, and all that have Bibles; keep but the Roman Nose to the grindstone of your Bibles, and examine your own Consciences, and the History and traffique of Popes-head Alley, and if ever Clement or any other

other Pope get footing in England, I'l give him, and all his ſucceſſors leave to kiſs——

But doſt hear me once more, my girl; there are ſome parlous acute men among them; and without doubt they'l now take all occaſion to write.

Then I'l ſh---againſt them.

The other day into a place I went,
Where Mortals uſe to go that want a vent;
There by the mouth of Purgatory hole,
Where many groan and their hard caſe condole;
Saul Creſſy's ſacred legend I did find,
One leaſe whereof gave eaſe by breaking wind,
And wip'd Aſperſions from Rome behind.
Rare man (cry'd I) worthy to be no leſs,
Than Groome o'th' ſtool unto his Holineſs.

Dr. A moſt eaſie and compendious way of withſtanding, confuting and ſuppreſſing Popery! For the Pope himſelf, he's to be faced down; Bellarmine to be drunk down: and Creſſy to be wip'd down. And therefore I ſay

I say once again, (and I wish it would enter into the hearts of all cowardly and jealous Church-men) that if his Majesty will be pleased not to confine me to set forms and fashions, but still to allow me the free use of my whole Bible; and that Costive Saturn does not seise upon my fundament, and bung up those hindmost faculties, if ever Popery get one inch further into England, let not Officious Robin ever go to stool again.

But now, Dr, if I were sure that thy Muse had wip'd her tail, and that she would not bedung me; I would venture to come a little closer to thee, and ask thee, Dost thou think when his Majesty was pleased to suspend the execution of penal laws upon such offenders as thy self, that he did then indulge such simplicity, such rudeness and slovenliness as thine? dost think that he intended therein to encourage such boyish, barbers, high-way jests as Bonfires and Incendiaries, Musick and Fidlers, bells and ropes; as cups of Roman wormwood, Trojane Mares, Pope-faced juggs, Popes-head Alley and the like? such nasty, Kitching,

Kennel

Kennel phanſies as Clements Podex, Purgatory hole, Aſperſions from Rome behind, and Groom of the cloſe ſtool? I prethee, Robin, by what figure, or (to ſpeak in thy own ſtile) by what Conſtellation, didſt thou take out an O that ſhould have been in the Rome behind, and two lines after, put it into the cloſe ſtool? didſt thou do it by Aquarius or Sagittarius? It is pitty that beſides the Groom of the Robe or Stole, that there were not ſuch a preferment, as little children think there is, that thy Muſe Mopſa might have the Bil of Holland to make clean her naſty mouth. But to go on, Doctor, ſuppoſe thy Doctorſhip had ſo much childiſhneſs, as to think in earnest, to call the Papiſts Hobgoblings, Hobby-horſes, Huntingdon Sturgions, &c. and to tell the world they need not be afraid of Popery; for there being a Capitol at Rome, the Papiſts are but meer gagling Ganders: and if ſome of them by great ſtudy ſhould improve themſelves into Geeſe, yet thoſe Geeſe could never prove Swans. I ſay, (ſuppoſe thy Doctorſhip was thus weak) what hadſt thou done with thy Bible

ble and Divinity, when thou sendest them to wrestle a fall with Tiburn, for the price of thy cow (which phansie, I know as well as can be, thou hadst from the fellow that dwells at the corner of Hide-Park) and when thou wishest them beside, all head-long crucifyed? Nay, I'll suppose further, that this also was only trickish and frolick some: but then I would earnestly know, Dr; where was thy good manners and modesty; where was the loyalty, whiteness, and lawfulness of thy soul, when thou commendest also the Bishops and Reverend Clergy of his Majesties Church to the Gallows: (for he is no Fanatick, nor ever intends to be one, as he tells thee in his Declaration) when thou callest our Curates Loggerheads, and the generality of our Priests, Fidlers, Jackdaws, Sots and Judas's: when thou tellest them that they wet themselves too much between meals, to fear any Smithfield persecution; and that they are good for nothing but to drink up the Wine and the Milk; and to take the beast of Rome by the Tail: (is this a frolick too?) but that it is you, and such as you, that live wholly

wholly upon Scripture, and Rock water ten times distill'd, who are to feed and watch, to dig & preach, and to assail Antichrist, & take him by the Horns. Yes, yes, we may ghess, Dr, what an Assailant thou art likely to be, and what a dreadful Horn-taker! it is five to one, if thou shouldst meet that same beast in a narrow lane, but that thou wouldst either untruss at him, or bid King Lues and the Devil take him, or else threaten to speak to thy Bodies-maker, to whistle for Sagittarius to come away and shoot him; as he lately did Durham and Glocester. A most sad cause indeed, Dr! that wit should be so extraordinary low with thee, that thou shouldst be able to devise nothing else to reproach the best Church in the world, than to abuse a couple of its Learned and Reverend Prelates for that common absurdity of dying at fourscore years of age.

I might, Doctor, had I patience, take notice also that as thy scurrility it self is so weak and languid, that a very Cock-sparrow if offended would bristle up and defy thee: so thy Encomiums and good words are so ahominably mean and tedious, that one had better live ten fathom under ground, than be known, and so vilely quibbl'd on. Thus after a most doggrel prayer for the Duke of Lauderdale's good journey into Scotland (which, had he gone by Sea, was almost doggrel enough to have cast him away) O thou dost not question but the Scots will find his Grace, and his blew ribbands, true blew. My Lord Clifford's foul is to be as white as his staff: The Chancelour of the Exchequer's word is to go for current money: and the Duke of Buckingham is to keep the saddle, because of the Horse. Now I profess, in my opinion, Doctor, it would almost tempt a man, neither to have name, nor office, money nor clothes, neither to do well, nor intend well, rather than be obnoxious to such a lewd and ill-favour'd commender.

And now, Doctor, I have to desire of you, that you would not put your self to so much trouble, as to endeavour, to excuse the meanness of what you have lately written; either by saying that since the days of prosperous Presbytery you wanted a glass of wine

after

after Dinner, or that you were out of humour, or that your parts are much shatter'd with these ten last years persecution: but rather that you and your friends would submit to the common report and opinion; and believe that you never had any, nor possibly ever can have any wit at all; notwithstanding you have a whole book full of printed poems, and that there can scarce be a bull-baiting, but you begin presently to muster: I say (notwithstanding all this great readiness to rhime) before we parted, I thought fit plainly to acquaint you, that he that shall either look into the history of your life (which is very near ready for the press) or into the History of your Poetry, (which also will be shortly out) will easily perceive that your wit is not at all wasted by gout, old age, tribulation for Conscience sake, or the like; but that you never had any in your whole life, neither did any body ever think so, but such as ran the hazzard of printing your doggrels. And therefore I desire Doctor, you would consider that it is not a sufficient stock for a Poet, to set up only with the Latin names of the days of the week, and of 3 or 4 of the fowrest Nine: and to be able to call to one and say, here Melp, creep you into the shoe-hole and lye close there; till t'other Girl goes to Breda and fetch over the King; but there's good learning, good judgement, good converse, and good manners too requir'd; which, all the world know, you never took care of any further, than to be acquainted with the meer Titles of Books; and to make Tertullian to Apologize, Origen to Allegorize, Chrysostom to Homilize, and the like. Nor ever hadst thou wit sufficient to venture into any company, for which thou mightest be the better: but only to get into some Farrier's or some soft yielding Gentleman's house, and there to quibble over the birth or death of some child. And as for thy acquaintance with Cleveland (of which thou art so very proud, that thou canst scarce meet a boy in the street, but thou runnest him up in a corner, and givest him the witty adventures of it) I understood his humour as well, as if I had held upon my knee the frying pan for him, or ran for mustard: and thereupon I know, that he never took thee abroad with him, him, for any wittineſs or pleaſantneſs that was to be had in thy company; but only, not certainly knowing how the Countrey might be provided for his purpoſe, he uſed to carry ſome game along with him, that he might be always ſure of one to be abuſed. And upon that account it was, that he would permit thee ſometimes to lye at his beds feet; that, if he ſhould chance to wake before the Chamberlain came up, he might fall preſently upon thee, and loſe no time: and ſometimes he would ſuffer thee to ride behind him, upon the ſame Horſe; not that he admired thee, as an ingenious Miſtreſs, but only that thou mighteſt be in a conſtant readineſs to be made ridiculous.

And as, by what I have now ſaid, and by thy late Eſſay upon the Declaration, it is very plain that thou wanteſt the very firſt materials and fundamentals of being a Wit; ſo is it as plain from the whole Hiſtory of thy Poetry, that thou didſt always want them. For ſuppoſe one ſhould be ſo overkind, as to ſuffer thee to pick out the very maſter-pieces of thy phanſie; ſuch as the Norfolk and Wiſbich Cock-fight: the Bottles of Sack and Claret laid in ſand and covered with a ſheet: the Impriſonment of Mr. Calamy, and the famous Iter Boreale it ſelf: I can eaſily tell, how theſe poſſibly might pleaſe ſome people; without having the leaſt grain of wit in them. As for the Cock-fighting; 'tis moſt tediouſly quibling about Peacocks, Weather-cocks, Woodcocks and fighting cocks; and beſides towards the latter end, moſt abominably baudy. As for that Poem upon the buried wine; I ſhall ſay no more but this: 'tis moſt villanouſly prophane from top to bottom, with expreſſions alluding to the Grave and Reſurrection. I pray, Dr, do ſo much as look upon thoſe verſes at your leiſure, and ſee if your tender, ſpotleſs, and mealy-mouth'd Nonconformity can ſanctify ſuch baudery and prophaneſs. As for the third, 'tis ſo ridiculous that I know nothing like it but the ſong of the Black-ſmith that common Fidlers uſe to ſing. For there you ſhew that Mr. Calamy's being put into Priſon by the Biſhop of London was much more tolerable, than your being impriſon'd by Biſhop Gout. For the Biſhop

of London put him only into Newgate, and that lately: but the lordly and proud Biſhop Gout had put you twenty years ago, not into Newgate, or Ludgate, or Alderſgate, but into Cripplegate. Oh the unſufferable pride and lordlineſs of ſome tyrannical Prelates! Beſides, this Biſhop Gout makes your body his Dioceſs; and there he keeps Courts, and there he has a viſitation for every Limb; and urges every Joint to conform, & thoſe that will not, he articles againſt And when the Gout is in the hand, then my Lord Gout has you in hand, and when 'tis in your toes, he has you by the toes. And now, can you and your friends think this Wit? don't you fear every day that you riſe, that his Majeſty ſhould call in again his Mandate, and ſend for that ſame Doctorſhip he gave thee, and beſtow it upon ſome honeſt merry Porter? And laſtly, as for thy famous Iter Boreale it ſelf: I know it was much bought up, and read by many. But don't gull your ſelf, Dr; for it was not becauſe there was any good humour, wit or Poetry in it; but becauſe any thing upon that Subject would have been admired, after ſuch ſad and diſmal times. Nay, ſo it was that the very word King was amongſt
